President Receives Many Communications Urging Him To Force Congress To Build Battleships.

ACTION OF CONGRESS IS RESENTED

St. Louis Postoffice Fight Is Decided By Reappointment Of
The Present Postmaster Who Was Opposed
By The Congressmen.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—What is taken to be a decided endorsement of President Roosevelt's stand on the building of four new battleships, by the people of the country as a whole is being received here in the shape of letters directed to the President personally.

Want the Ships
From the number of letters received within the past few days urging the President to use every method possible to force Congress to provide for the construction of the four ships desired, it is evident that their rejection when the naval bill was passed is strongly disapproved.

Plena of Necessity
The opponents to the President's endeavors to have four battleships constructed, claimed that it would entail a heavy extra expense that would not be justified. Their rejection of the President's plan is also taken as a measure of ratification for direction in matters of legislation by the chief executive.

St. Louis Fight
The end of a long and bitter fight over the naming of the postmaster of St. Louis was closed today when President Roosevelt sent to the Senate the name of present Postmaster Frank Wyman for reappointment to the office.

Strongly Opposed
Mr. Wyman's reappointment was bitterly fought by Congressmen Richard Bartholdi, Henry S. Caulfield and Harry M. Connelly, the three Republicans congressmen from the city of St. Louis.

Offers Resolution
Representative Williams of Missouri today offered the following resolution in the house: "Resolved, That the last act of the speaker of the house of representatives in adjourning the house on Saturday, April 18th, 1908, was a breach of privilege to the house, affecting its safety, dignity and the integrity of its proceedings."

Is Tabled
The Williams resolution was laid on the table by a vote of 146 to 118. Cooper and Nelson, Republicans of Wisconsin, voting with the Democrats.

Adopts Rule
The House today adopted a rule agreed upon Saturday by the committee on rules making every day session day providing for the passage of all bills by a majority vote instead of a two-thirds vote.

STORY PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

Alleged Defaulting Cashier of Bellville Bank Says He Never Stole a Cent.

IN PLEA OF THE GAZETTE

Madison, Wis., April 20.—Edwin C. Story, the cashier of the Citizens State bank of Bellville, pleaded not guilty today to a charge of defaulting $23,000. When the bank's condition was discovered ten days ago, Story denied it with unfeigned intent and a statement was found in his pocket to be read when I am dead and admitting the shortage of $23,000. He now says he never stole a cent and will defy anybody to prove otherwise.

"I expected it, and I will be glad when it's all over," said Edwin C. Story, defaulting cashier of the Citizens' State bank of Bellville, this county, when arrested at his home Saturday night by Sheriff Kittleman. The banker is still in critical condition as the result of drinking tea with unfeigned intent when his situation was discovered, he was allowed to spend Easter with his family, but two deputy sheriffs guard him constantly, for it is feared that he will make another attempt to destroy himself.

Formal complaint against Story has been made by State Comptroller of Banking M. C. Borch, charging four separate offenses:

1. Embezzlement of $23,233 of the funds of the bank.

2. Making false and fraudulent entries in the cash book of the bank, with references to amounts said to be due the bank from the First National of Monroe and the Merchants' Loan & Trust of Chicago.

3. Making false entries in the book of general balances of the bank.

4. Making a false and fraudulent statement of the condition of the bank in response to the last call issued by the state examiner.

When Story was found in a supposedly dying condition, a written confession was found in his pocket. It is said that he will plead guilty and throw himself upon the mercy of the court when arraigned here in the municipal court tomorrow. The penalty prescribed for his alleged offense is five to twenty years in state's prison.

TOOLS WERE STOLEN ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Rock River Machine Company's Plant
Was Entered and Burglarized.

Entering by a window in the office of the Rock River Machine company last Saturday evening someone went into the shop and stole a number of tools belonging to the men and to the company and also a number of drawing instruments. The window by which the thief entered was opened this morning. One of the employees passed by the factory Saturday night and saw the curtains of the office pulled down and thought that someone of the office force was in there, so he paid no further attention to the fact.

The thief was evidently in there at the time as the shades are not pulled down when the office is locked up. The value of the tools and instruments taken is about twenty dollars. It is thought that the act was the work of some boy as the tools taken were not the best in the shop and seemed to have been taken at random.

Sling-shot Nuisance: The small boy and his unlawful toy, the sling-shot, are again making trouble for many residents. Some unknown youngster sent a stone through $10 plate glass window in J. L. Bear's residence on South Main street one night last week. The sling-shot is forbidden and parents should see to it that the law is enforced.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STEEL CORPORATION

Wall Street Interested in Annual Stockholders' Meeting Held Today.

IN PLEA OF THE GAZETTE

New York, April 20.—The Wall street district is manifesting considerable interest in today's annual meeting of the stockholders of the United States Steel corporation. The interest is due largely to the recent reports that Pittsburgh stockholders in the corporation are to demand the removal of William E. Corey from the presidency on the ground that he is not competent to be the head of the great corporation in times of adversity.

Wall street is inclined to take those reports of antagonism to President Corey with a grain of salt, and in the opinion of the majority of the prominent financiers Mr. Corey will be re-elected to the presidency with little or no opposition when the time comes.

ROUMANIANS ANXIOUS FOR FUTURE OF THEIR COUNTRY

Fear That With Death Of Present Ruler Rou-mania May Lose Separate Existence.

IN PLEA OF THE GAZETTE

Bucharest, April 20.—King Charles of Roumania, one of the most interesting of the rulers of Europe, entered upon his eightieth year today, having been born April 29, 1829, a prince of the house of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen. It is now forty-two years since he entered this city to become the ruler of the Roumanians. Possessed of a strong hand and a strong mind, Charles emerged in triumph from the many troubles that beset the early years of his reign. In these years he has established his reputation as a great soldier, a clever statesman and a popular sovereign.

Ferdinand is not personally unpopular, but his wife is. Crown Princess Marie is too thoroughly of English stock, too completely out of sympathy with the people of Roumania to be regarded as ideal queen. She is a niece of King Edward and makes no secret of her intense partiality for the English.

The Roumanians are an intensely patriotic people. They have never resented a nominal sway assumed in Turkey, because the why Sultan has been far to clever to make the bonds cut. Moreover, the power and patriotism of King Charles has sufficed to serve as a check on plans that ambitious and covetous nations might have in contemplation.

GREAT TRIBUTE TO HUGHES

ANTI-RACE TRACK GAMBLING MEETING IN BROOKLYN.

Thousands of Men Cheer the Governor and Adopt Resolutions Indorsing His Stand.

"New York, Apr. 20.—A remarkable demonstration against race track gambling, that at times assumed the form of a personal tribute to Gov. Hughes, was made in Brooklyn Sunday.

The demonstration began in the streets leading to the Bedford branch of the Young Men's Christian association, where the governor was announced to address an anti-race track gambling meeting, and attended the speaker from his carriage to the platform of the spacious hall.

The mass meeting was a non-sectarian affair for men; called, the chairman, Rev. John P. Carson of the Central Presbyterian church explained, with the object of impressing upon some of our representatives in the legislature the necessity of their changing their views regarding race track gambling," and, he added, "if they do not change their views we will see to it that we change the men."

An hour before the time set for the meeting the hall was crowded to the doors, while a thousand or more persons were in the street outside. Gov. Hughes' arrival in the crowd that filled Bedford Avenue from curb to curb was the signal for prolonged cheering and cries for a speech to those who could not get into the hall. For several minutes the demonstration continued. Mounting the steps of a convenient doorway, the governor spoke briefly, setting forth the unconstitutionality of the present racing situation, and warning his auditors that upon them as citizens devolved the responsibility of seeing to it that the state constitution was kept inviolate.

Within the hall there was a second outburst, the audience first cheering and then rising and singing "The Star Spangled Banner," as the governor smiled and repeatedly bowed his acknowledgments.

Gov. Hughes referred to the charge that his official conduct regarding the situation had taken the form of "executive usurpation." "Well," he added, "I never will support a measure that I cannot openly and directly discuss with the people."

The audience then adopted resolutions denouncing the Percy-Gray act, which makes race-track gambling possible and demanding the passage of the bill against gamblers which were recently defeated by the vote in the state senate. The resolutions concluded with a hearty endorsement of Gov. Hughes' stand in the matter.

GREAT CLUB OF SPORTSMEN, Organization Being Formed to Buy 200,000 Acres in Mexico.

St. Louis, Apr. 20.—The Altimontos Hunting and Fishing Club, composed of sportsmen from all over the country and which will bring together hunters and fishermen from all the world, is being organized in St. Louis, according to Norman J. Coleman, formerly lieutenant governor of Missouri, who is the president. Five hundred members will make up the organization and each will make up hiself to subscribe $2,000 to pay for the tract of 200,000 acres of land comprising the Hacienda Altimontos, a ranch 70 miles from the Mexican port of Tampico, on which the club has an option.

Mr. Coleman stated that sportsmen from many nations, some of them belonging to royal families, have signified their intention of becoming members. Charles S. Crane, general passenger and ticket agent of the Wabash, is vice-president of the club.

The Clock That Had No Hands

By Herbert Kaufman.

Newspaper advertising is to business what hands are to a clock. It is a direct and certain means of letting the public know what you are doing. In these days of intense and vigilant commercial contest a dealer who does not advertise is like a clock that has no hands. He has no way of telling folks what he's at. He can no more expect a twentieth century success with nineteenth century methods than he can wear the same sized shoes as a man which fitted him in his boyhood.

His father and mother were content with neighborhood shops and bobtail cars. They were the best to be had in their day. They were accustomed to seek the merchant instead of being sought by him. They dealt "around the corner" in one-story shops which depended upon the immediate friends of the dealer for support. As long as the city was made up of such neighborhood units, each with a full outfit of butchers, bakers, clothiers, jewelers, furniture dealers and shoemakers, it was possible for the proprietors of these little establishments to exist and make a profit.

But as population increased, transit facilities spread, sections became specialized, block after block was entirely devoted to stores, and mile after mile became solely occupied by homes.

The purchaser and the storekeeper grew farther and farther apart. It was necessary for the merchant to find a substitute for his direct personality which no longer served to draw customers to his door. He had to stretch a bond between the commercial center and the home center. Rapid transit eliminated distance but advertising was necessary to inform people where he was located and what he had to sell. It was a natural outgrowth of changed conditions—the beginning of a new era in trade which no longer relied upon personal acquaintance for success.

The newspaper publisher, hitherto a gossip, a retailer of information, became a first aid to commercial advancement. The shopkeeper, hitherto a petty tradesman, began to grow into the dignity of a merchant.

Something more wonderful than the fabled philosopher's stone came into being, and the beginnings of fortunes which would pass the hundred million mark and place tradesmen's daughters upon oriental thrones grew from this new force. Within fifty years it has become as vital to industry as steam to commerce.

Advertising is not a luxury nor a debatable policy. It has proven its case. Its record is traced in the skyline of the city where a hundred towering buildings stand as a lesson of reproach to the men who had the opportunity but not the foresight, and furnish a constant inspiration to the young merchant at the threshold of his career.

Mrs. O. E. Terry of Stoughton is visiting here.

Miss Vera Baker of Albany was here with friends Saturday and left for Oakley, where she will teach school.

A telegram was received here last evening announcing the death of Mrs. Ella Requipto Rogers of De Land, Florida. She was a resident for many years of their city previous to her marriage and her many friends will be pained to learn of her demise. The cause of her death was apoplexy.

She has a sister, Mrs. Wm. Hahn, and a number of relatives in this city, besides brothers and sisters elsewhere.

Two-Handed Writers

"Don't go after wealth with both hands," advises Rudyard Kipling. Isn't this a rather severe restriction on the ambidextrous authors who are making fortunes whacking out modern novels on the typewriter?

Proper Lighting of Mines

It is argued that the compulsory adoption of the incandescent system of electric lighting in mines will greatly cut down the death roll.

Slightly Different

The request was made in a public library for the rather remarkable little "Walt a Minute." After some detective work on the part of the librarian it was found the book wanted was "Tarry Thou Till I Come."

FLEET IS DIVIDED INTO FOUR PARTS

VESSELS SEPARATED FOR FIRST TIME ON THE CRUISE.

ANCHORED FOR ONE WEEK

People of Los Angeles Swarm Over the Great Fighting Machines
—Sailors at Easter Services.

Los Angeles, Cal., Apr. 20.—Sunday night for the first time since leaving Hampton Roads, the battleships of the Atlantic fleet were separated. In four harbors, a few miles apart, they lie at anchor in divisions of four and these positions they will maintain until next Saturday morning, when the 16 fighting craft, again united under the flag of Admiral Thomas, will get under way for Santa Barbara, the next port of welcome.

The division of the fleet was accomplished at six o'clock Sunday morning, but even at this early hour the shores of San Pedro harbor and the hills overlooking were well covered with spectators eager to witness the maneuvers of the warships.

Dividing the Fleet.

While the crowds ashore watched, suddenly the signals began to fly and within a few minutes, the second division, led by its flagship, the Georgia, steamed slowly out of line and proceeded three miles across the harbor to a point opposite Long beach. The third and fourth divisions rounded Point Fermin for a longer cruise to San Pedro, the four ships led by the flag-ship Maine proceeding to anchorage in the most sheltered portion of Santa Monica bay, and the fourth division, with the Alabama leading, dropping out of the column to anchor a few hundred yards off the pier at Redondo. At an early hour the steam and electric roads were transporting thousands of visitors to all-fair ports, and as the day advanced, the overcrowded beach cities sent their surplus thousands of people along the stretches of sandy beaches out and along the piers, and along the hills that command the best views of the vessels at anchor.

Visitors Swarm Over Vessels.

In the afternoon visitors were received on board and after that time the people surged about the boat landings and the bays were dotted with tiny craft laden to the limit of safety with men, women and children who struggled to be first aboard the big fighting machines.

A striking feature of the service in each of the big churches of Los Angeles was the presence of squads of sailors in uniform, who were without exception given places in front pews and to whom in nearly every instance, the clergyman addressed a portion of the Easter sermon.

Throughout the next few days and while officers and men of the fleet are participating in the round of banquets, balls and other forms of entertainment devised by various committees, the people of southern California will be welcomed aboard the battleships and each night there will be a repetition of Saturday night's splendid illumination.

Merrill Arrested in Indiana.
Wheatfield, Ind., Apr. 20.—Everett Merrill, wanted by Chicago authorities for being implicated in the Lillian Wulff kidnapping case, for which Kidnapper Jones and wife are now serving imprisonment, was arrested here Saturday evening. Merrill was wanted on the charge of attempting to collect ransom money from the parents of the child.

Henry M. Cade of Portland, Ore., was nominated on the Republican ticket for United States senator, defeating Senator Charles W. Fulton.

James Ladd, charged with the murder of Herbert Johnson, a newspaper man, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the jail at Seneca, Kan.

With the dawn of Easter Sunday, Pope Pius' decree on marriage, emphasizing the sanctity of the relation, went into effect in every Roman Catholic parish in this country.

SAGAN ARRIVES IN PARIS.

Tries to Avoid Reporters and Refuses to Be Interviewed.

Paris, Apr. 20.—Prince Hulio do Sagan, who arrived at Cherbourg and embarked early Sunday morning from the steamer St. Paul, essayed to resume the secrecy which he unsuccessfully sought to carry out in the United States. Instead of coming direct to Paris he left the steamer train at Evereux, about 65 miles from the city, after having requested his fellow passengers not to mention his plan. At Evereux he resumed his journey to Paris by automobile.

The prince declined to grant an interview to the newspaper men who finally discovered him and refused to answer questions relative to the statement published by the Cré de Paris that he and Mme. Anne Gould already were married.

The passengers on the steamer, with whom the prince freely mingled during the voyage, say that he told them that he regretted he could not entertain them in Paris as he expected soon to leave that city, going probably to Italy. Some of the passengers added that the prince did not act like a married or engaged man, being devoted to a young English girl throughout the voyage.

FAIRLY QUIET IN CHESTER.

Strikers Make Only One Attack on Street Cars Sunday.

Chester, Pa., Apr. 20.—Little disorder developed here Sunday in connection with the street car strike situation. Cars were operated at intervals on nearly all the lines of the traction company, but there were few riders. Each car was guarded by the state police and there was but one vigorous attack on the part of the strike sympathizers.

Shortly after the cars were started a crowd on Second street began throwing eggs at the men in charge of one of them, and when the supply of eggs gave out the throwers began using sticks and stones. The mounted officers routed the disturbers and arrested several men.

Student Accused of Manslaughter.
Watertown, Mass., Apr. 20.—Frederick Oliver Thompson of Des Moines, a first-year law student at Harvard university, was placed under arrest late Sunday night charged with manslaughter, following an automobile accident in which an unknown woman was struck and fatally injured by a machine in which Thompson and another Harvard student were riding. The woman died at the Cambridge hospital without recovering consciousness. Thompson was released in bonds of $5,000.

TWO KILLED AS BURGLARS

DISTRESSING TRAGEDY OCCURS
IN COLUMBUS, O.

Sons of Grocer, Mistaken for Criminals, Are Shot to Death by Two Policemen.

Columbus, O., Apr. 20.—Mistaken for burglars, John and William D. Frank, sons of R. O. Frank, an East side grocer, were shot and killed early Sunday morning by City Patrolmen Heinz and Casey. The latter has been suspended pending an investigation, but the former remains on duty.

Shortly before the shooting burglars were discovered by neighbors in the grocery of R. O. Frank, at 1221 Parsons avenue. Both the owner of the store and the police were notified about the same time of the burglary.

The two young men who were later shot, another brother, Albert Frank, and William Yoerger, hastily armed themselves and ran to the grocery. Patrolmen Heinz and Casey, who were already on the scene, were watching in the shadows of the building when the party came up and each mistook the other for the burglars.

According to the statement of Yoerger, W. D. Frank, who carried a small rifle, raised it and fired four times at Patrolman Heinz, who then drew his revolver and shot and fatally wounded the young man. Patrolman Casey ordered John and Albert Frank to throw up their hands and the latter says they did so and that the shooting of John Frank was unjustifiable.

Patrolman Casey declares that John didn't throw up his hands, but instead drew a revolver, and had aimed it at him when he fired. Both the young men lived several hours after they were shot.

BRUTAL CRIME IN KANSAS.

School Principal Beaten, Robbed and Thrown Under Train.

Manhattan, Kan., Apr. 20.—W. W. Hutton, principal of the high school here and a well-known educator, was waylaid by three men, beaten into insensibility, robbed and thrown under the wheels of a train Saturday night and was rescued after one leg had been cut off. The robbery occurred in the Union Pacific railroad yards, through which Prof. Hutton was passing on his way home. The robbers escaped.

PRAISES LOCAL COMMITTEE.

"The Chicago local committee is doing its work most excellently and there is not only no cause for criticism of it, but every reason to commend it for what has been done. The hotels are acting with entire fairness in the matter of rates, and in every respect, save and except the matter of the hall, Chicago is all right; but I have many times said and now repeat that the Chicago hall is a poor place in which to hold a convention and that Chicago, with its generally admitted enterprise and its otherwise unrivaled capacities and attractions, should not allow itself to be so incomparably surpassed in the matter of a convention building as it has been by other cities of far less size and importance, and that this dolichony should be supplied before the time for holding another national convention rolls around."

SPILT IN ARIZONA CONVENTION.

Tucson, Ariz., Apr. 20.—The Republican territorial convention met here Saturday. Contesting delegations were present from Cochise, Maricopa and Gila counties. The contests were based upon the question of instructions for Secretary Taft. Gov. Kilby led the faction of the Maricopa delegation favoring instructions.

Immediately upon the report of the credentials committee, seating the anti-instruction delegations, Gov. Kilby arose and withdrew, taking with him a majority of the delegates.

The Kilby faction proceeded to another hall, where they organized a second convention, which adopted resolutions strongly favoring the nomination of Secretary Taft, but did not instruct its delegates for him.

FATHER AND CHILD DRIVEN.

Neodesha, Ark., Apr. 20.—Al Anderson and his two-year-old child were drowned in the Fall river here Sunday afternoon. Anderson with his wife and child were in a boat above the dam when he lost control of the boat. All three occupants jumped into the river. The woman was rescued, but the other two were carried over the dam.

JOHNSON IGNORES PLEAS OF BRYAN

NEITHER THREATS NOR CAJOLERY WILL MAKE HIM QUIT.

NOT SEEKING NOMINATION.

Chairman New Repeats Criticism of Chicago Coliseum as Convention Hall—Arizona Republicans Split.

Lindsborg, Kan., Apr. 20.—Neither Bryan's jealousy nor Bryan's threats can swerve Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota from his determination to run for the presidency of the United States if the Democratic party so wills it.

The governor himself said so here before addressing the annual Messiah festival of Bethany college.

Recent utterances of Mr. Bryan and of known Bryan men indicating that the Nebraska applicant for Democratic honors deemed it presumptuous for the Minnesota man to become even a reception candidate were called to Mr. Johnson's attention.

"What Mr. Bryan says or does will make no difference to me nor change in my plans," said Gov. Johnson. "I am not seeking the nomination for the presidency, and I do not care whether I get it or not."

"I will be a candidate in case the people decide I am the most available candidate and the one who can get the most votes. I have been told by some of Mr. Bryan's friends that I would be a stronger candidate than he, I am inclined, however, to doubt that."

Now Criticizes Coliseum.

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 20.—Harry S. New, chairman of the Republican national committee, was asked Sunday about the statements credited to him regarding the Coliseum and Chicago as the place for holding the Republican national convention. He said:

"I did say, and repeat, that the Coliseum at Chicago is very poorly adapted to the purposes of a national convention, but I did not say that I was 'sorry the convention had come to Chicago, or that it 'ought never have come there.' I did say that Kansas City had Chicago badly beaten in the matter of a desirable hall, and I said the same of Indianapolis, referring to the new pavilion at the fair grounds.

"My criticism was directed solely at the building in which the convention must be held, which, I think any fair critic will agree, is not well adapted to convention purposes. It was certain that the local committee had told me the hall could be made to seat 14,000 people, and so I did, and I am perfectly certain that under no circumstances can more people be seated in that building than the architect who has the seating arrangements in charge, Arthur G. Brown, has provided for, which totals 11,165."

PRAISES LOCAL COMMITTEE.

"The Chicago local committee is doing its work most excellently and there is not only no cause for criticism of it, but every reason to commend it for what has been done. The hotels are acting with entire fairness in the matter of rates, and in every respect, save and except the matter of the hall, Chicago is all right; but I have many times said and now repeat that the Chicago hall is a poor place in which to hold a convention and that Chicago, with its generally admitted enterprise and its otherwise unrivaled capacities and attractions, should not allow itself to be so incomparably surpassed in the matter of a convention building as it has been by other cities of far less size and importance, and that this dolichony should be supplied before the time for holding another national convention rolls around."

The governor himself said so here before addressing the annual Messiah festival of Bethany college.

Recent utterances of Mr. Bryan and of known Bryan men indicating that the Nebraska applicant for Democratic honors deemed it presumptuous for the Minnesota man to become even a reception candidate were called to Mr. Johnson's attention.

"What Mr. Bryan says or does will make no difference to me nor change in my plans," said Gov. Johnson. "I am not seeking the nomination for the presidency, and I do not care whether I get it or not."

"I will be a candidate in case the people decide I am the most available candidate and the one who can get the most votes. I have been told by some of Mr. Bryan's friends that I would be a stronger candidate than he, I am inclined, however, to doubt that."

Now Criticizes Coliseum.

Indianapolis, Ind., Apr. 20.—Harry S. New, chairman of the Republican national committee, was asked Sunday about the statements credited to him regarding the Coliseum and Chicago as the place for holding the Republican national convention. He said:

"I did say, and repeat, that the Coliseum at Chicago is very poorly adapted to the purposes of a national convention, but I did not say that I was 'sorry the convention had come to Chicago, or that it 'ought never have come there.' I did say that Kansas City had Chicago badly beaten in the matter of a desirable hall, and I said the same of Indianapolis, referring to the new pavilion at the fair grounds.

"My criticism was directed solely at the building in which the convention must be held, which, I think any fair critic will agree, is not well adapted to convention purposes. It was certain that the local committee had told me the hall could be made to seat 14,000 people, and so I did, and I am perfectly certain that under no circumstances can more people be seated in that building than the architect who has the seating arrangements in charge, Arthur G. Brown, has provided for, which totals 11,165."

PRAISES LOCAL COMMITTEE.

"The Chicago local committee is doing its work most excellently and there is not only no cause for criticism of it, but every reason to commend it for what has been done. The hotels are acting with entire fairness in the matter of rates, and in every respect, save and except the matter of the hall, Chicago is all right; but I have many times said and now repeat that the Chicago hall is a poor place in which to hold a convention and that Chicago, with its generally admitted enterprise and its otherwise unrivaled capacities and attractions, should not allow itself to be so incomparably surpassed in the matter of a convention building as it has been by other cities of far less size and importance, and that this dolichony should be supplied before the time for holding another national convention rolls around."

[EXCERPT TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., April 20.—Sometime between nine and ten o'clock last evening, a dark bay driving horse belonging to Parke Ames, who lives 1½ miles east of Brooklyn and left by the owner in the Grange hitching-yard, was stolen and driven away. The horse was hitched to a new top buggy and was shod in a peculiar manner which enabled Deputy Sheriff Fred Gillman to train it for some distance after he had made a preliminary trip to the Ames' home to make sure that the animal had not broken away and wandered home. Late at night the rig was located in Peter Mallory's farmyard and acting on descriptions given him, Officer Gillman arrested a man named William Houghton, formerly employed by Gustavus Anderson, on the charge of committing the theft. Houghton was lodged in the local lockup and will be taken to Janesville this afternoon.

RIGHT FOOT CRUSHED
BY THE CAR-WHEELSHarry F. Collins Met with a Terrible Accident in Trying to Board a Freight-Train Last Evening.

Seeking a "lift" to his home at No. 12 Hickory street, Harry F. Collins attempted to board a northbound freight-train near the North-Western depot about eleven o'clock last evening. In doing so he missed his hold and fell and the car-wheels caught and badly crushed his right foot. His sole's insole conveyed the unfortunate young man to the Mercy hospital where Dr. E. P. Woods and Dr. W. H. Palmer found it necessary to amputate just above the ankle. Mr. Collins is 21 years of age, a carpenter by trade, and lives with his father, Charles Collins. He is reported to be getting along as nicely today as could be expected under the circumstances.

Sun's Heat.

Popularly speaking, the heat of the sun is such that the total annual output of all the earth's coal mines would serve to keep up the solar radiation for only one-forty-millionth part of a second. If the earth was a solid mass of coal and could be supplied to the solar furnace it would last just 36 hours. The same difficulty attends the attempt to mentally realize the amount of the solar heat that is appropriated by our planet. Science has demonstrated that the amount of the sun's heat caught by the earth is only the 3,250-millionth part. In other words, the heat of the sun is sufficient to warm up 2,250,000,000 worlds

the size of the one we are living in—

Those Delicious Lemon Pies

The kind that "make your mouth water and your appetite with no fail."

"Lemon Pies,"

Why Not Mix Brains With Your Eating?

If you mix brains with your eating you will be interested in the cost and nutritive value of your food.

Shredded Wheat contains the greatest amount of muscle-building, brain-making material in the most digestible form and at the least cost. A food for the outdoor man and the indoor man—for the invalid and the athlete.

For breakfast heat the Biscuit in oven, pour milk over it (hot milk in winter) and a little cream. If you like the Biscuit for breakfast you will like toasted TRISCUIT (the Shredded Wheat wafer) for luncheon or any meal with butter, cheese or marmalade. At your grocers.

MRS. HOWARD GOULD AND DUSTY FARNUM, THE ACTOR.

New York, April 14.—The matrimonial ventures of the Goulds seem to be as unfortunate as many of the other rich families. Howard Gould and his wife are now involved in a divorce case, which bids fair to open up many family skeletons. Mrs. Howard Gould and her attorneys desire an open trial, while Howard Gould and his council, Dolanay and Nicholl, do not want it so. Howard Gould did the spectacular in answering his wife's suit. He charged her with improper conduct with Actor Dustin Farnum and reiterated his old statement of intimacy between his wife and William Cody, better known as "Buffalo Bill." He charges his wife with intemperance and bids her drink for the day as follows:

Three cocktails before breakfast one pint of white wine at luncheon, several brandy highballs in the afternoon, three cocktails before dinner, champagne liberal quantities at dinner, liquors after dinner, another brandy highball, which she called a night cap, at bed time. In addition to this she keeps bottles of brandy, gin and liqueur in her boudoir, of which she would partake off and on during the day and night.

Mrs. Gould alleges this to be mere gossip and not founded on fact, but Mr. Gould's attorneys state they have absolute proof, not only of the quantity of liquor consumed, but can prove that her conduct was often disgraceful at the public hotels and cafes. Mr. Gould charges that she followed Farnum during the summer of 1906 through New England and held many clandestine meetings with him. Farnum has denied the charges one and all. He does not state whether he will testify or not in the case.

Danger in Continuous Gripe.

The growth of a number of successive crops of the same plant has been lately found not only to exhaust the soil for that plant, but to develop an active poison for it. Steam distillation of a wheat-sick soil yielded a crystalline substance that is toxic to wheat, and from a soil exhausted for cowpeas a crystalline substance was obtained that is toxic to cowpeas but not to wheat.

Revival of the Shawl.

The shawl, so popular 40 years ago, is bound to come into fashion again if we are really as anxious about our health as we are supposed to be. Nothing is so hygienic, comfortable or so adaptable to circumstances.

School for Dogs.

A school for dogs has been established in Paris. The object is to teach them politeness. The animals are trained to welcome visitors by jumping up, wagging the tail and giving a low bark. When the visitor leaves, the dog accompanies him to the door, constantly wagging his tail and barking farewell by barking his head to the floor. He is trained, likewise, to pick up a handkerchief, glove or fan that has been dropped and return it to the owner.

THE CAPTAIN OF the KANSAS

By LOUIS TRACY,
Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EDWARD J. CLODE

"Get me the brief to congratulate you!" she cried, her cheeks mantling with a rush of color and her lips quivering with excitement. "How wonderful of you to bring the ship through all those awful reefs and shoals! No, you must not say you have done nothing marvelous, for Christobal has told me everything. Next to Providence, Captain Courtenay, we owe our lives to you."

Courtenay felt it would hurt her were he to smile at her earnestness, but he did say:

"Surely it is not so very remarkable that I should do my best to safeguard the ship and such of her passengers and crew as survive last night's ordeal."

"I shall never understand how I came to fall asleep," said Elsie. "I remember feeling very tired. I sat down for a moment, and that ended it. The next thing I heard was a rapping on my door and Dr. Christobal's voice bidding me hurry if I would see the entrance to the harbor."

The two men exchanged glances. Courtenay laughed so pleasantly that it was good to hear.

"Yet there aye I lay aye, mammering the ship in the firm faith that Dr. Christobal was busy in the cook's galley," said he.

"All, we have news for you!" cried Elsie. "One of the poor fellows who was knocked on the head during that terrible fight for the boats was the master cook himself. He is better now, and breakfast can be ready in five minutes. I'll go and tell him."

She ran off, and Joey scampered by her side, for he knew quite well where the kitchen lay.

"Bromide is useful at times," mumbled Christobal, watching Elsie until she had disappeared. Then he turned to Courtenay.

"I suppose you have seen nothing of the boats?"

"No sign whatever. And I could hardly have missed them if they were here. They may have escaped, but I doubt it. The sea ran very high for a time, and the Kansas scraped past so many reefs that it was almost impossible for each of the three boats to have done the same."

"Even if one or more of them reached land there is small likelihood that they would turn up in this particular bay?"

"That is true, especially if they used their sails. The Chileans who got away in the lifeboats would know sufficient of the coast to make a northerly course, while my parting instructions to Malcolm were to keep to the north all the time."

"I wish now that poor Isobel Baring and the others had not left us," said Christobal sadly.

Courtenay was about to say something, but checked himself. He was not blind to the neglect of affairs which Tollenache had summarized so pitifully. It might yet be that those who remained had more to endure. Then Elsie summoned them to breakfast, which was served on deck, as the saloon had been temporarily converted into a hospital.

"You have been in these parts before?" cried Courtenay, regarding his comrade with some interest, while the Spaniard surveyed his rival doubtfully.

"They are called the Almenof. They use bows and arrows with heads chipped out of stone or bottle glass," put in Tollenache.

"Are they?" said Courtenay. He looked Christobal straight in the eye, and the doctor returned his gaze steadily.

"That is their name. They live mostly on shellfish. They do not congregate in communities. A few families keep together and move constantly from place to place."

"They are called the Almenof. They use bows and arrows with heads chipped out of stone or bottle glass," put in Tollenache.

"Oh, you have been in these parts before?" cried Courtenay, regarding his comrade with some interest, while the Spaniard surveyed his rival doubtfully.
